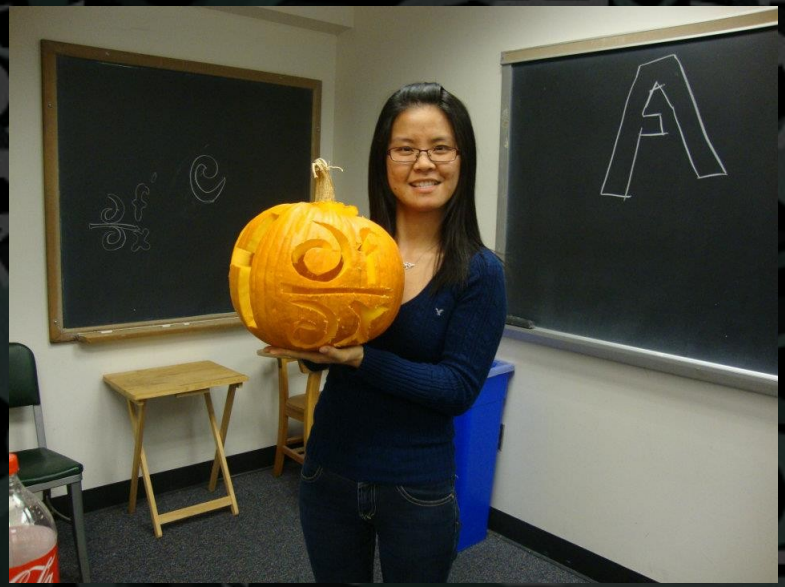
Welcome Math Majors



...an adventure awaits you.

Academic Advising

- Know your advisor:
  - Jamie Sutherland
  - 432 Ewing Hall
  - sutherla@math.udel.edu
- Know the calendar:
  - September 10th – last day to add or drop a class “for free”
  - October 22nd – last day to drop a class without academic penalty
  - December 13th – last day of final exams
- Know yourself
  - Make time for academics, but also for your other needs.
  - Prioritize (eating, sleeping, hygiene, exercising, socializing)
  - Seek out help sooner, rather than later.

Academics at the university level

- Your instructor is here to help you learn.
- You do the work. Your instructor keeps score.
- You are respected as young adult mathematicians.
- We expect more from you.

http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=4PJcABbtvtA

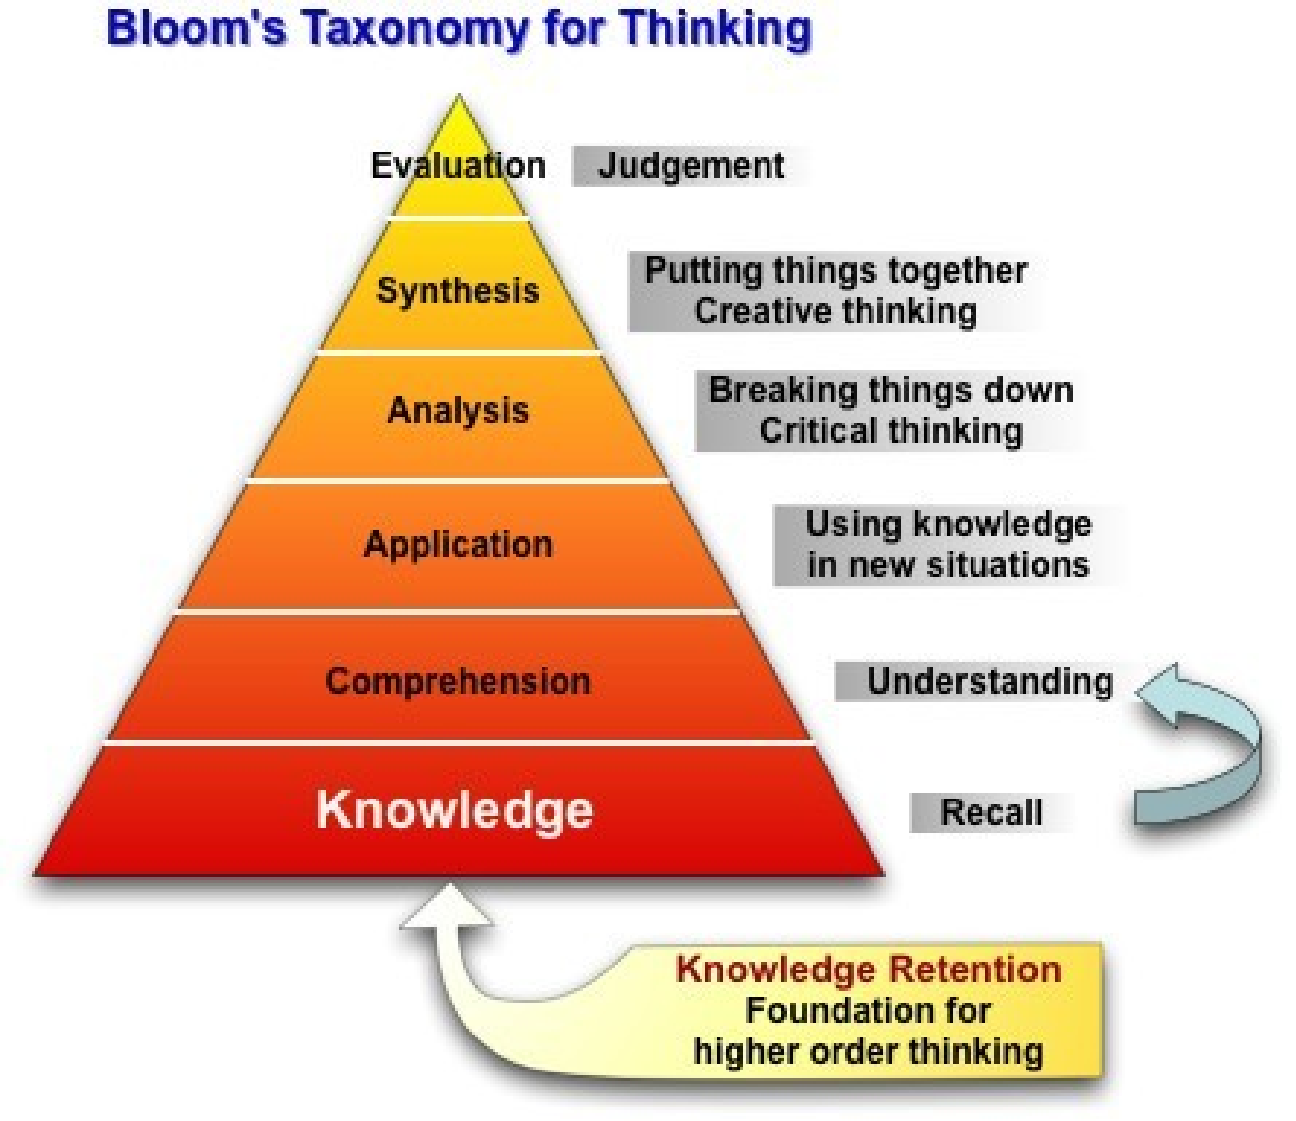
Academics at the university level

- Your instructor is here to help you learn.
- You do the work. Your instructor keeps score.
- You are respected as young adult mathematicians.
- We expect a lot from you.

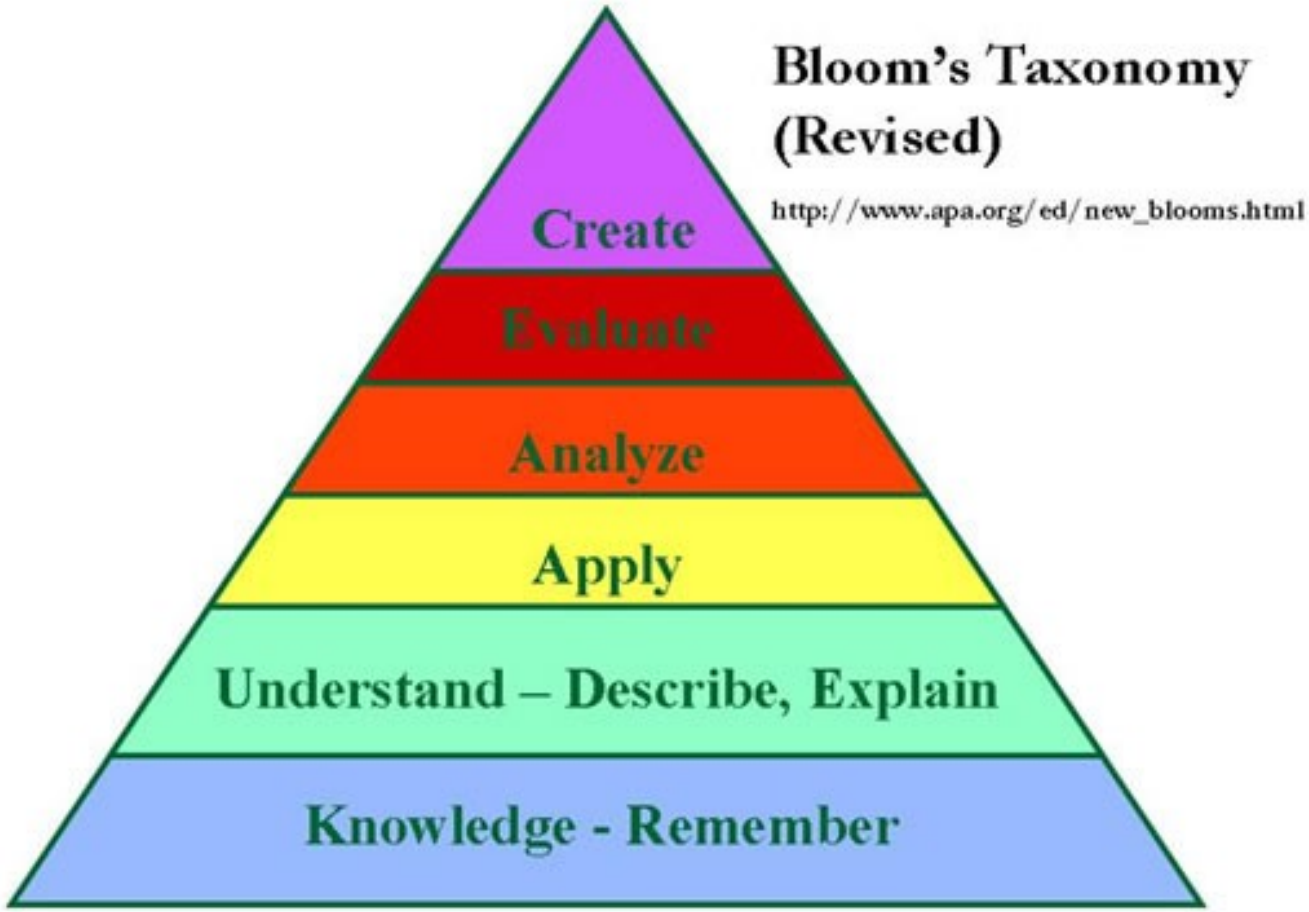
Rossi's Pyramid of Doom

- Foundations.
  Basic skills are automatic.
- Guided application of skills.
  You can solve a problem with guidance from a peer or a worked example.
- Topic specific application of skills.
  You can do your homework independently without guidance.
- Mastery.
  Given any problem from the course, you can identify the correct approach and apply it. You can create new problems. You see mathematics all around you.

Rossi's Pyramid of Doom



Rossi's Pyramid of Doom

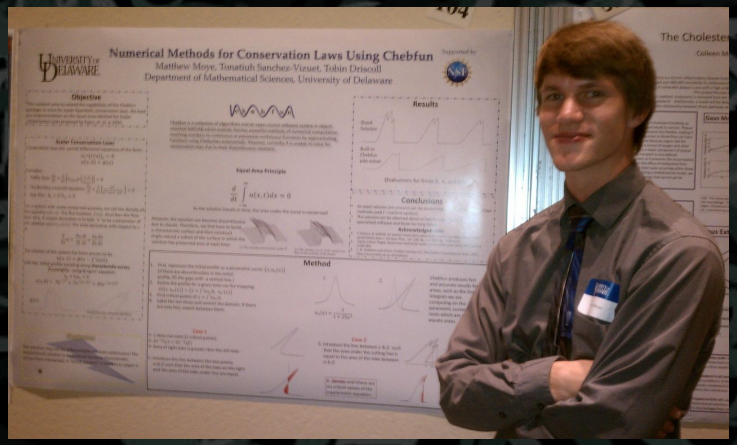


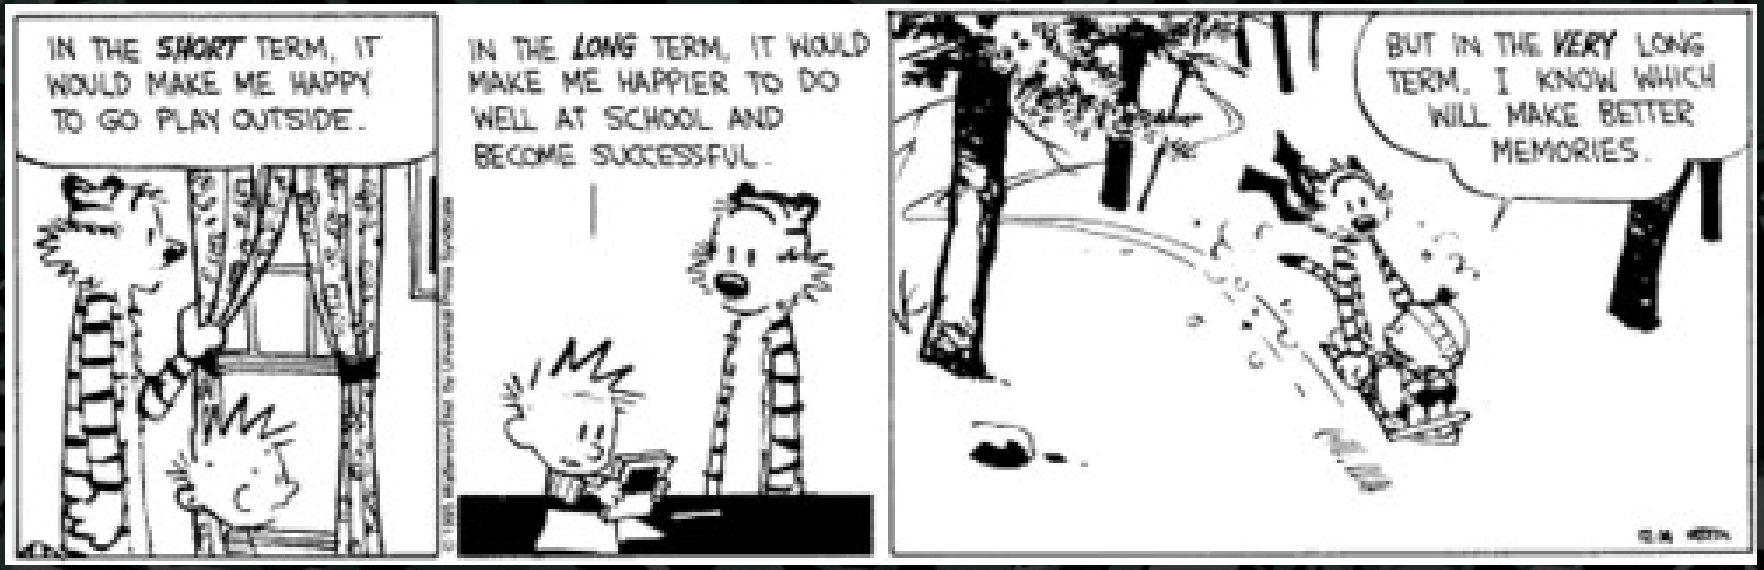
Based on an APA adaptation of Anderson, L.W. & Krathwohl, D.R. (Eds.) (2001)

Eight majors

- BA in Mathematics
- BS in Mathematics
- BA in Secondary Math Education
- BS in Secondary Math Education
- BS in Mathematics and Economics
- BS in Quantitative Biology
- BS Actuarial Sciences
- Math + X (Dean's Scholar program)

Add value to your degree!



- The Math Club
- Putnam Contest
- Honors thesis
- Mathematical Contest in Modeling
- Undergraduate research
- SIAM Student Chapter
- Association for Women in Mathematics
- Career Services Center


An adventure awaits